

www.cnhs.org.uk
events@cnhs.org.uk

CNHS is open to everyone interested in natural history:
palaeontology conservation entomology ecology zoology geology botany & more!

Cambridge Natural History Society

Founded in 1857 as Cambridge Entomological Society

Britain's hidden marine life

Thursday 12th October 2017
6:45 – 8:30 pm

David Attenborough Building

New Museums Site, off Pembroke St, Cambridge CB2 3QZ

Frances Dipper, a marine biologist and author, will talk about the varied, beautiful and sometimes surprising marine creatures that can be found on and in our shores and shallow waters. Her book The Marine World will be on sale.

Photos © Frances Dipper: top: Seaham; left: Galathea squamifera; right: Actinia

Admission £2; CNHS members £1.50; students with ID 50p;
ARU Wildlife Society and Cambridge University Nature Society members free

Further details of field studies and other events at www.cnhs.org.uk

