

WILDTEAM®

PROJECT MANAGEMENT FOR WILDLIFE CONSERVATION TRAINING WORKSHOP

17th-19th October 2018 (inclusive)

Tubney House, Tubney, Oxfordshire, OX13 5QL

Your instructors: Beth Robinson & Alison Skeats

STARTERS

SWITCHERS

PRACTITIONERS

Learn how to set up and run your own conservation project by:

- Breaking down projects into manageable phases
- Assigning roles to the team so that they all have clear levels of decision making
- Dealing with risks, issues, and reviewing lessons learned
- Applying principles that keep your project on track with more impact
- Using standardised templates to help plan, monitor and report on your project work.

Cost: £360 per person

10% off if you book before 17th August 2018

Only 30 places available

Includes certification exam worth £100

"The PMWC is a great method of understanding how to be a project manager and understand the components of how to maximise the difference a project makes to conservation"

Hannah Waters. Education Ranger
Twycross Zoo

"I have attended and coordinated numerous workshops and by far, this is the course that has left me the most impressed. Good content level directly applicable to the work"

Rosa.
Veterinarian

www.wildteam.org.uk/classroom

For more information please contact Beth@wildteam.org.uk

Supported by

WILDCRU
Wildlife Conservation Research Unit